How good and pleasant it is when brothers dwell in unity!

corac.co

What a marvelous summer it's been, as the World Cup brought unity, humor and excitement to the US, magnified by the splendid celebration of America's 250th birthday of independence. The Summer of Rage we expected from the Left in anticipation of the mid-terms was not able to materialize during the halcyon World Cup days, so thank you, John Denver-singing Brits, trash-gathering Japanese, dancing Dutch, reeling Scots and beautiful soccer fans from 44 other countries. You showed us what a true Summer of Love looks like!

Rise Up and Double Down

Never play chicken with Donald Trump.

The president's election integrity speech on Thursday night is a game changer. Oh, there will be wailing and gnashing of teeth. But no matter how hard the media cries "unfounded" or "debunked," Trump brought the receipts. The evidence of massive voting vulnerabilities – and fraud – is massive and solid.

In 2018 I was in Dallas on election night – and was dumbfounded. The Dallas Metro area – not just the inner core blue city – switched from red to blue. At first I thought it might genuinely be vote fraud, but then I saw it covered multiple counties. I remarked to my friend, Jim Graham, (a CORAC Board Member), who I was with that night, that the only way it could be fraudulent was if the voting machines or counting system were connected to the internet. At the time, all the "experts" assured us that all voting systems were completely firewalled from the internet. It was a year later that we found that, au contraire, the counting systems are connected to the internet. Graham, God bless him, called me immediately after this news broke to tell me that I had called it.

A single metro area in the country completely switching its normal vote pattern occasionally happens – and is usually a sign of significant volatility and movement. In this case, almost every major metropolitan area in the country switched from red to blue. That is what is called a "black swan" event, something so statistically improbable that no one can foresee it coming. I was all but convinced that there had been massive vote fraud. It still puzzled me. To go from retail fraud to wholesale fraud took a ton of squeeze for not near enough electoral juice.

On election night, 2020, Trump was leading handily when four swing states stopped counting ballots for the night. This almost never happens. Trump was leading in all four. In the morning – mirabile dictu! – all four had swung heavily to Biden. I had gone to bed as soon as the swing states stopped the count. I knew what was up – and knew the election was going to be stolen from Trump. After all, I mostly worked Illinois, so I had seen this sort of thing many times before.

Within days of that election, I finally got the complete picture. 2018 had been the beta test for the massive fraud machine the Democrats would use to guarantee a Trump loss in 2020. Now it all made sense – and I started writing that supposition on my Sign of Hope site.

The media is in a panic because, while they may not have been in on it from the start, they were clearly accessories after the fact – and the revelation that China was paying journalists to push negative takes harder and more frequently – risks proving them to be co-conspirators from very early on. This is likely to topple current iterations of the Democrat Party, large swaths of the intelligence community, and the establishment media itself. This is a very large threat to the Deep State.

It will probably play out with all manner of hissing and howling over the next year. Oddly, for all the shrieking that is, incredibly, about to increase in volume, the largest threat no longer comes from the increasingly unhinged left. They are doing a bang-up job of discrediting themselves in real time.

It is coming from black-pilled conservatives and faithful who push the narrative that nothing is happening because not enough of what they think should be happening is happening yet. So, unbelievably, they propose we sit on our hands to punish the very people who are making good things happen. They are like small children constantly asking if we are there yet from the back seat of the car. I suggest they quit their grumbling and read through the list of things that have changed dramatically in less than two years, compiled by the estimable Jeff Childers of Coffee and Covid fame. After that, they might take a look at the brilliant Victor Davis Hanson piece on how dramatically the world has changed in the same period.

Two years ago I worried that the enemies of faith and freedom might plunge us into a new, dark era for a time. It is surreal to me that now, I am worried that some of the very people who were stalwart defenders of both then may yet take us down because of their thorough – and idiotic – black-pilling. As British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher once advised President George H. W. Bush, “Don’t go wobbly.”

CYCLOSPORIASIS

The latest health scare has reached 4,000 sufferers, with explosive diarrhea its main symptom. That's enough to put anyone off! The parasite seems to inhabit salad greens, leafy herbs like parsley, and berries with lots of fissures, like raspberries. The common wisdom is to avoid salads for a little while. Washing vegs more thoroughly has not been effective against the parasite, so just let the lettuce go for now, unless you are growing your own greens (which many CORAC'ers do!) All vegetables should be cooked until this thing runs its course.

Various theories may explain the outbreak: insufficient restroom facilities for agricultural workers or possibly deliberate contamination of crops or water supplies. The parasite spreads by fecal transmission, so wash hands, cook produce and enjoy a few weeks free of the notion that a salad should accompany every meal. Personally, I'm going to avoid fast food joints for a bit. I have enough spinach growing in my backyard to take me to October.

Cyclospora is a parasite, and many of us happen to have Ivermectin sitting in our cabinets. The discoverer of Ivermectin was awarded the Nobel Prize for its effectiveness specifically against parasites, but I haven't heard anyone advise the use of Ivermectin against this particular parasite. It's a "mystery", since no adverse side effects accrue to Ivermectin.

Curcumin, the bioactive pigment in turmeric, has been shown to definitely kill the parasite.

WORLD CUP FEVER

Written in the middle of FIFA fever, the exuberant days of happy visitors and charmed natives during one of the happiest periods of recent American life, my article posits a greater effect on the world than merely increased exposure to Buc-ees and Bass Pro. I think the long-term after-effects of this World Cup season are a completely unexpected Vitamin B-12 shot in the arm of the ordinary people of the world, and a blow to globalists and other bad players.

It is a highly unlikely and unpredicted gift of God to us. Thank you, good Lord.

GROOMING GANG REPORT

I was hoping England would take home the World Cup, and the unrestrained joy and triumph would catapult them into taking back their country from some of the most undiluted monsters alive today. Sadly, it is not to be, England having lost their semi-final match with Argentina. They still have a shot at third place; maybe that will be enough.

Or maybe they are just going to have to stiffen their spines and throw out the monsters regardless. Over and over, we hear reports that native white Brits are thrown under the bus to favor Muslims (or Sikhs, in the case of Henry Nowak.) Brits surrendered their firearms in 1997, and one look at their country should make everyone a Second Amendment advocate. The people have been cowed into submission.

Now comes the rape report, formally The Rape Gang Inquiry Report. Over 250,000 British girls have been sacrificed to the Muslim gangs who rape as a political act. The government and so-called "law enforcement" have only protected the rape gangs. Girls have been kidnapped, raped and passed around from one group to another. No one has rescued them or even demonstrated for them up until now. A quarter of a million girls offered up on the demonic altar of population replacement and globalism. It is a catastrophe of suffering, going on over decades.

Even now, not much is being said or done. The British people are utterly defeated, without even the will to take back their country. That's why I hoped they'd win the World Cup; they are in dire need of a transfusion of hope.

SSPX

There's no sense opining about the legality or prudence of one side or another in this crisis. Everyone has gotten emotional, though only a very small number of people are directly affected. The decision about the outcome for the SSPX was not made in a vacuum. We've all watched our beloved Church become more and more unrecognizable, so that legal decrees like this one are not received docilely, especially when they are poorly written and pushed out by disreputable men like Cardinal Fernández. If his portfolio contained something better than mystical pornography, his decrees might carry more weight.

MORE SEMIQUINCENTENNIAL

The last few newsletters have contained reading and viewing suggestions for the Founding Era of America. I'm still happily immersed in Jeff Shaara's Rise To Rebellion and the HBO miniseries John Adams. These will keep me busy for some time, but meanwhile, I've discovered a few more items that should be added to the recommendations.

Revolution: The Birth of the Greatest Nation in the History of the World

By Eric Metaxas, bestselling author of Bonhoeffer

Just published in June 2026, in time for the Semiquincentennial

640 pages. The audiobook is 27 hours!

Washington: A Life

By Ron Chernow

Winner of the Pulitzer Prize 2011

928 pages; audiobook is 42 hours! Taking any cross-country drives this summer?

Revolution Trilogy (which is only two books at the present time)

By Rick Atkinson

The British Are Coming

The Fate of the Day

Young Washington, the movie. Saw it on July 3, and will be watching it again. It was excellent.

UNIFY USA

The brother team of Teague "Pure Joy" and Koston McCoy have been running with the American flag every day for about half a year now. It started out with one person, and is now a movement of over one million, Unify USA. They've been on Fox News and many local stations. The mission is to spread unity, positivity and health.

They say they'll get to every state. They've been to California, Hawaii, Florida, Tennessee, and New York so far. When they make it to Texas, I will be there with my flag! Check their schedule here: <https://unifyusaofficial.com/pages/run-with-us#run-schedule>

THE LIST

Jeff Childers did us all a big research favor Wednesday, and published a list of the Trump 2.0 achievements. At around 80 items, it's impressive, and not even close to complete. He declared that the US government would recognize only two genders, male and female, and that may have been the greatest act of all, at an existential level. Sometimes we all need a reminder of how tremendously the nation has improved since the last administration.

THE CRIME THAT NEVER ENDED

We cannot allow ourselves to “get tired” of covid. It was a massive crime for which no one has yet paid. Victims are still being stacked up. Though I think most people are wise to it, there is still a significant number that would still obediently line up for an experimental shot if scared enough by the media.

The majority of the world took the covid jab: five billion bodies running the modified RNA programming that keeps the toxic spike protein circulating in the body for long periods of time. While the effects of the jab may be debated from now until the Second Coming, the statistic of all-cause excess mortality since 2021 (jab rollout) tells a tale. This number includes sudden-unexpected death, turbo-cancers, cardiac death, death from autoimmune disease, suicide, homicide... everything.

Excess mortality in the US and Europe is still elevated, five years after the disastrous shot. Statisticians do not expect it to return to normal for another 3-7 years, which is just a guess based on trends. Who knows what will happen, since this experiment is unprecedented. No matter how we look at it, it's not over.
